GOVERNMENT’S MOTION FOR DETENTION

Pursuant to Fed. R. Crim. P. 32.1(a)(6), the government, by and through the undersigned Assistant United States Attorney, respectfully moves the Court to enter an order detaining the defendant pending the completion of a revocation hearing. Rule 32.1(a)(6) provides that the defendant bears the burden of proving by “clear and convincing” evidence that he will not “flee or pose a danger to any other person or the community[.]” The defendant was being supervised in the District of Vermont following his 2002 conviction in the District of New Hampshire for unlawful distribution of heroin that resulted in death. On September 2, 2020, United States District Judge Geoffrey W. Crawford issued a warrant for the defendant’s arrest based on multiple alleged violations of the conditions of his supervised release, including that the defendant failed to return to Vermont after being instructed to do so by the United States Probation Office and that the USPO had not heard from Roy since September 2, 2020. The USPO concurs with this request, noting that it is their belief that Roy poses an immediate risk to the community and himself.

Under these circumstances, the government submits that the defendant cannot sustain his burden and should be detained pending a revocation hearing in the District of Vermont.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. DURHAM
UNITED STATES ATTORNEY
